WHY AM I RECEIVING THIS NOTICE?

A court has determined that you owe (amount owed) $ _____ to: (plaintiff's name) _____, the judgment creditor. You are receiving this notice because the judgment creditor has directed the sheriff to collect your wages, funds, benefits and property to pay this judgment.

WHAT ARE MY RIGHTS?

Idaho and federal law protect certain wages, funds, benefits and property from being taken to pay certain types of judgments. These protected wages, funds, benefits and property are exempt from garnishment. To protect your wages, funds, benefits and property, you must file a Claim of Exemption.

WHAT IS A CLAIM OF EXEMPTION?

A Claim of Exemption will notify the sheriff that the wages, funds, benefits and property which have been taken are exempt from garnishment, and the money or property should be returned to you. A copy of the Claim of Exemption form and instructions for filling it out and returning it to the sheriff has been included with this notice. You can download a Claim of Exemption form at <https://isc.idaho.gov/lrcp-new>, at the bottom of the page under Appendix B.

WHAT EXEMPTIONS ARE AVAILABLE TO ME?

This notice includes a Partial List of Exemptions under Idaho and Federal Law. The list may not include all exemptions that apply in your case because of periodic changes in the law.

WHAT IS MY NEXT STEP?

Immediately return a completed Claim of Exemption to the sheriff at: (sheriff's address)

If you fail to return a Claim of Exemption Form to the sheriff within fourteen (14) days of the mailing/service of this notice, your wages, money, benefits and personal property will be released to pay the judgment. For mailed documents, the 14-day period starts running from the postmark date. You may also lose your right to claim an exemption or you may have to bring further court action to recover your wages, money, benefits and property.

WHO CAN I CONTACT IF I NEED HELP?

If you have any questions concerning your rights in this matter, you should contact an attorney as soon as possible. More information on Claim of Exemption and Garnishments is available from the local court assistance office at www.courtselfhelp.idaho.gov/find-office and Idaho Legal Aid Services, Inc. at www.idaholegalaid.org/node/1564/execution-and-garnishment-judgments.
